

POSTAL HISTORY OF THE GRECO-ITALIAN WAR 1940-'41

The Italian invasion of Greece began on 28.10.40. At the time, Greek military units were organized according to the pre-war (1939) document "Organization of the Armed Forces", Campaign Plan I-B (I-Italy, B-Bulgaria), and also Mobilization Plan 1939β dated 5.12.1939. The latter provided detailed specifics regarding the composition and deployment of:

- The General Staff
- Two military administrative departments - T.Σ.Δ.Μ. (Western Macedonia Army Section) and T.Σ.Κ. (Kavala Army Section) and very shortly thereafter T.Σ.Α.Μ. (Eastern Macedonia Army Section)
- Five Army Corps Σ.Σ. (1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, and 5th)
- Fifteen Divisions (14 infantry Μ.Π., 1 cavalry Μ.Ι.)
- Four Infantry Brigades

Greece had already prepared for the possibility of war – both materially and psychologically. Having seen Italian forces moving close to the border, Greece had put into effect two call ups for military services – an "official" one in October 1939, and a "covert" one in August 1940.

The Greco-Italian War created glorious pages on the battlefields, so it rightfully earned the designation of the "epic." Within a few weeks, Greece had already gained the upper hand, and the myth of Axis invincibility was evident for all to see. Italian forces were pushed back across the border, into Albania. The situation got so bad the Italians had to call on the German Army to bail them out. However, this was not without consequences - namely the delay of German preparations for the invasion of the Soviet Union.

The period of the Greco-Italian War ends around late April 1941, shortly after the German attack on Greece (April 6, 1941). Subsequently, Greece will enter the dark period of German occupation.

Although the duration was relatively short, the Greco-Italian War nonetheless provides an interesting collection of postal items.

To cope with the large volume of mail (9,643,000 letters censored in February '41), the army created:

- Five Central Military Post Offices (ΚΣΤ), in key locations
- Postal sectors (ΤΤ) for individual units with a code number for large units - which was not related in any way to the unit's secret code, name or location.

Military mail was censored throughout the war as well as during the call up period. At first, this was done mostly for larger units. From within Greece to the army, censorship was performed by the ΚΣΤs who were responsible for the military mail. Later, a ΓΕΣ (Hellenic Army General Staff) directive, dated 11.11.1940, this control was ultimately assigned the Civil Correspondence Offices upon dispatch. Censorship of outgoing mail from the army (after the ΚΣΤs) was carried out by the post offices of the units, (the corresponding ΤΤ).

Military units usually employed postcards, either private or official military service ones.

In the case of civil correspondence, censorship was initially the job of the local authorities (usually the Gendarmerie/Police). Later, this function was assigned to the censorship offices of the Greek Post Offices, and to post offices in occupied Albania. At some point, these also took over the military mail (as noted earlier). A variety of official censorship markings were used, with or without the location, as well as resealing adhesive tape.

At the beginning of the war, mail to and from the army (up to 20 gr) was postage free.

The exhibit refers to the organization of the postal service of this period and its preparation (offices, cancellations, markings on mail, especially censors).

A prominent place in the exhibit is occupied by items of correspondence of prisoners of war.

The locations of the units' operations during the specified period, shown in parentheses, are based on the research of the presenter

PREPARATION FOR COVERING - FRONTIER UNITS

From 1924 onwards, Greece deployed and maintained units to guard its 1200 km. long northern frontier, which ran from the mouth of the river Evros to the Adriatic Sea, a titanic work for its time. Their composition varied - the most important of these being the so-called "FRONTIER SECTORS" and "FRONTIER SUB-SECTORS". The postal cancellations employed by them also varied. Regulations with regards to the postal services provided to these units, can be found in circular no. 4 dated 9/1/24.

Frontier Sectors were usually designated by a Latin number, whereas sub-sections were indicated by location. There were twelve in all (with VI and VIIα being the most important). With the outbreak of the war, they were either dissolved or absorbed, and a few who remained were given their own TTs. Details can be found in the following table:

FRONTIER SECTORS
VI Frontier Sector	NEO PETRITSI SERRÈS	X Frontier Sector	ARIDEA
VII Frontier Sector	DRAMA	XI Frontier Sector	KILKIS
VIIα Frontier Sector	KATO VRONTOU DRAMA	XII Frontier Sector	KOMOTINI
VIII Frontier Sector	IOANNINA	XIV Frontier Sector	XANTHI
IX Frontier Sector	FLORINA	EVROS Frontier Sector	DIDIMOTICHON
IXα Frontier Sector	KASTORIA	SOUFLI Frontier Sector	SOUFLI

Each frontier sector had its own unique postal handstamp, and this made any mail which bore it, eligible for a reduced postal fee (circular 213823/11.9.1928 of the Ministry of Transport). As described in article 1 of the decree of 4.4.1933, this fee was 10 cents per 20 grams of weight for ordinary letters and postcards. Once the war got under way, the frontier sections were either renamed, or were incorporated into the campaign units and their mail was then free of charge.

WITH THE START OF THE WAR ...

The VI Frontier Sector, headquartered in NEO PETRITSI, SERRES, received the Postal Sector "693" with the onset of the war. Furthermore, the rhomboidal censor mark due to a mistake with the cliché, has the "9" reversed. Subsequently, the TT693 was assigned to the XVIII Division upon its formation (December 24, 1940).

The VIIa Frontier Sector, headquartered in KATO BRONTOU DRAMA, was served by Postal Sector "624" of the C' (3rd) REGULATORY CENTER at the start of the war. However, for better service, Postal Sector 624A was soon established as a branch of TT624.

Censored at departure with the rhomboidal "TA 624" Also, the VIIa Frontier Sector, together with the 73rd Infantry Battalion (ΣΠ) and the 19th Infantry Regiment, formed the VII Infantry Brigade until February 24, 1941. After that date, this unit complex was renamed "KARANTAG COMPLEX."

OFFICIAL PRE-CONSCRIPTION of 1939

The occupation of Albania (April 1939) by Italy prompted Greece to initiate an official pre-conscription on (Sept./Oct '39). This involved 2 Infantry Divisions (IOANNINA, KOZANI), 1 Infantry Brigade (FLORINA), and elements of the CORFU MILITARY GARRISON. Four Postal Sectors (PS) were created for mail to/from these military units (825, 912, 712 & 850 respectively), but these were later allocated to other units. These post offices and their associated censorship offices were abolished on 15.10.39 by the order of 12.10.1939 of the GES (Hellenic Army General Staff).

COVERT CONSCRIPTION of 1940

The alarming increase of Italian troops on the Greek-Albanian border, as well as the sinking of our protected cruiser ELLI, forced Greece into a covert conscription in August 1940. There were individual call-ups of reserve officers supposedly for further training and individual call-ups of unarmed soldiers. It was then that the Military Postal Service, the Central Military Postal (ΚΣΤ) offices, and the autonomous censorship offices (ΤΑ) of the Postal Sectors (ΤΤ) were created.

In August of 1940, the Greek military took note of Italian forces massing at the border. This was the catalyst for an unannounced call up of Greek troops. The associated logistics of such a mobilization needed to take into account the soldiers' mail. A directive was therefore issued (on August 24, 1940), authorizing the establishment of the "Military Postal Service" of the Campaign with a number of Central Military Post Offices (ΚΣΤ) in key for the war locations (see adjacent table).

Each of these also included a censorship office, and they employed a type of handstamp that produced a characteristic rhomboidal censor mark, bearing the initials ΤΑ (T: Τομέας/Department), - A: Λογοκρισίας/Censorship) and in the middle, a letter indicating the corresponding ΚΣΤ (A, B, C, D, E). These censorship offices were maintained until shortly after a directive of 11.11.1940 according to which the censorship of mail to the army was then taken over by the censorship of the sending civilian post offices.

MILITARY UNIT CANCELLATIONS

There are two categories of military mail: That of the campaign army, which was circulated through the ΚΕΤs (mentioned above); and that of the conscription army, for all intents and purposes - the army within national borders. In order for soldiers in the 2nd category to send their mail free of charge, they used an official handstamp of their specific unit (which was prohibited in the case of the former). Thus, there exist items bearing the designations of the units themselves.

"ΕΜΠΕΔΟΝ ΠΕΖΙΚΟΥ ΕΛΕΥΘΕΡΟΥΠΟΛΕΩΣ"
(Infantry Training Camp of ELEFTHEROUPOLIS)

"XIV ΚΤΗΝΙΑΤΡΙΚΟΝ ΑΠΟΣΠΑΣΜΑ"

"4ος ΛΟΧΟΣ ΚΑΤΑΣΚΕΥΩΝ II ΤΑΓΜΑΤΟΣ ΣΙΔΗΡΟΔΡΟΜΩΝ"

POSTAL SECTORS

The postal cancellations used were based around three primary types (shown above). The postal sectors should not be confused with the secret unit number, with which there was no connection. All major units, the General Staff, Commander-in-Chief, Military Commands, Armies, Army Corps, and Divisions had their own Postal Sector. It was essentially their post office.

A distinguishing feature of the Military Postal Service was the introduction of Postal Sectors (TT). These were established by a directive dated 24.8.1940, which also made provisions for the creation of Central Military Post Offices (ΚΣΤ). Four Postal Sectors had been created in August of 1939, in conjunction with the official mobilization.

Each large military unit had its own Postal Sector (TT) code number that was assigned to it for the duration of the war. It was imperative that this, and not the location, be used for military correspondence. The total number of TT was 45, 42 + 3 supplementary ones as an annex, with the letter A as a suffix.

Each Postal Sector (TT) had its own censorship office (for mail leaving the military unit) with an identical vertical rhomboidal handstamp: "ΤΛ-Τομέας Λογοκρισίας" (Censorship Department) and the number of the Postal Sector in the middle.

Ταπεινώσει την Ελλάδα...
... για την πατρίδα...
... για την Ελλάδα...
... για την Ελλάδα...
... για την Ελλάδα...

Letter card from a soldier of TT652 to Mytilene, with a very interesting text ...

... we go forth with our homeland in our hearts, for on the twenty-eighth of October, the murderers sent us an ultimatum asking that we agree to become their slaves. Little do they realize that Greeks will always be free - we have our history, and we remember well that better an hour of liberty than forty years of slavery and prison. Greece will show the dishonorable murderers who sunk a ship of our Greek navy (ELLI), that we remember her, that we never forget what it means to be Greek - even if there are 45 million against our 8. The 8 million will drive them back, and throw them into the sea...

... the dishonorable Mussolini who separated us will pay dearly for it ...

NAVAL POST OFFICES

NAVAL POSTAL SECTORS (NPS)

ΑΛΦΑ (ALPHA)	ATHENS
ΒΗΤΑ (BETA)	CHALKIDA
ΓΑΜΑ (GAMA)	THESSALONIKI
ΔΕΛΤΑ (DELTA)	PATRA

For the handling of mail, the Royal Hellenic Navy created 4 postal sectors, like those of the Army, in an equal number of cities (1 for the Ministry of Naval Affairs in Athens and 3 for major ports), that had a "letter" instead of a number. The offices were equipped with single-circle handstamps, bearing the inscription "ΝΑΥΤΙΚΟΣ ΤΑΧ. ΤΟΜΕΥΣ" (Naval Postal Sector) and the letter of the office. As was the case for the army, the Navy also censored the mail of its enlisted men.

Naval units and services usually had circular but also rectangular handstamps, bearing the "ΝΑΥΤΙΚΗ ΜΟΝΑΣ" (Naval Unit - NU) inscription and the unit's code number, usually for censorship control. The types of handstamps used by the units, as well as their exact locations, are not all known, as records from this period are quite scarce and the Navy's archives have been destroyed.

EON (National Youth Organization) postcard from unit 4000 (green cancellation with coat of arms) of TT 850 (PS850), pmk "TAX TOMΕΥΣ 850 * 7 I 41", to Naval Unit 525 (belonged to the armored cruiser AVEROF).

Censored upon departure with rhomboidal TA 850. This mail item was handled with Naval Postal Sector BETA, pmk ΝΑΥΤΙΚΟΣ ΤΑΧ. ΤΟΜΕΥΣ ΒΗΤΑ * 1 II 41. Additionally, it bears a red 2-line handstamp used by that Naval Postal Sector for forwarding on to other naval units, in this case the component N.T.Γ. 3 (Naval Post Office 3) of the Naval Postal Sector - most likely ALPHA (not explicitly specified), which was given to the cruiser AVEROF.

Note: "Naval Post Offices (NPO)" were components of "Naval Postal Sectors (NPS)" and carried a distinguishing number.

TRANSFER OF GREEK PILOTS IN HABBANIYA (IRAQ)

During the Greco-Italian War, 20 Greek pilots were transferred to a British Royal Air Force School (January 1941) in Habbaniya, (Iraq) for training in advance war tactics. Two months later, a second group of 16 pilots followed.

When Greece was occupied by the Germans in April 1941, the Greek pilots were transferred in Palestine, where they established the first Hellenic Fighter Squadron, which went on to achieve remarkable success.

Letter from a Greek pilot on 15.2.41, of the Special Flying Training School-SFTS (F/O of the Greek R.A.F. No. 4 SFTS, Habbaniya, Iraq). Addressed to his mother in Greek, even though the delivery of letters in Greek was very slow due to censorship in Cairo. He mentions that he also sent another letter to a relative in English in order for it to arrive faster, but it never did (apparently kept by British Censorship service).

For this reason, the censor in Athens (E 70) with handwritten note says "No other letter was found besides the present one".

PRISONER OF WAR CAMPS

At the start of the war, each side detained people deemed to be a security risks - i.e. - likely to engage in espionage activities on behalf of the enemy. They were interred in specially designated areas set aside for that purpose. Soldiers captured on the battlefield were put in concentration camps. Additionally, the Italian side rounded up any enemy soldiers that it could locate, (and even after the end of the war).

Prisoners' mail was usually delayed by several weeks. From Greece to Italy, this was in the order of two to three months.

Correspondence to and from prisoners of war, concerning Greece, was postage-free.

1. GREEK CITIZENS OF ITALIAN ORIGIN, RESIDING IN GREECE

With the start of the war, Greece placed Greek citizens of Italian origin (called political prisoners), in specially designated areas. This was initially done in Athens (in provisional collection camp), but later in Patras as well. This practice continued until April 1941.

For the correspondence of internees in this category, the Greek Red Cross, following an order on December 5, 1940, from the Ministry of Security, issued special-colored postcards in a greenish-blue color (postcards for political prisoners of enemy countries).

The image shows a greenish-blue official postal card from the Hellenic Red Cross. At the top center is a red cross symbol. To its right is the number 'E33'. Below the cross are the words 'ΕΛΛΗΝΙΚΟΣ ΕΡΥΘΡΟΣ ΣΤΑΥΡΟΣ' and 'CROIX ROUGE HELLENIQUE'. A circular handstamp in the center reads 'ΕΛΛΗΝΙΚΗ ΛΟΓΟΚΡΙΣΙΑ' with a central crest. To the right of the stamp is the text 'ΑΤΕΛΕΣ FRANCO DE PORT.'. On the left, there are fields for 'ΕΛΛΑΣ Περιοχή: 3' and 'GRÈCE Zone:'. Below this is a red-bordered box for the sender's name, with 'ΑΠΟΣΤΟΛΕΥΣ - EXPÉDITEUR' written above it. The sender's name is handwritten as 'Αβραάμ Μουζιλιώ'. To the right of the box are fields for recipient details: 'Κατ Μαρτίνου Φίροτ', 'Μ', 'Όδος: Rue: 1ατος', 'Πόλις: Ville: Αχαρνά 32', 'Έπαρχ.: Province: Αθήνας', and 'Χώρα: Pays: (Ελλάς)'. At the bottom left, there is a date '14/1/41' and the text 'ΕΛΛΑΣ - GRÈCE'.

Official postal card of Hellenic Red Cross from a Greek of Italian origin, confined in the camp No 3 (ΠΑΤΡΑ) (PATRAS), posted on 14.1.41 to Athens. Censored in Athens with single-circle handstamp "ΕΛΛΗΝΙΚΗ ΛΟΓΟΚΡΙΣΙΑ" with a central crest and "E 33" (HELLENIC CENSORSHIP, censor's number #E33)

2. ITALIAN SOLDIERS CAPTIVE IN GREECE

About 22,000 Italian soldiers were captured on the Albanian front. They were initially interred in Attica and the Peloponnese, and later, on the island of Crete. The camps they were assigned to were designated 1, 2, 3, 4 for soldiers and A, B, C, D, E for officers. The Italian prisoners remained in these camps until the capitulation of Greece in April 1941, when they were released by the Germans.

3. GREEK CITIZENS INTERNEES IN ITALY

Greek citizens who happened to be in Italy at the beginning of the war (about 450 people, mainly students and sailors), were arrested and locked up in special facilities; they were released in September 1943, after the armistice between the Italians and the Germans.

Their correspondence, obligatory written in Italian was examined by the camp censors and was forwarded postage free.

Official cover of the International Committee of the Red Cross in Geneva, sent from Greece via the Hellenic Red Cross (Service Hellenique), to GENEVA, for a Greek citizen (P. Kritikos) imprisoned in the MONTECHIARRUGOLO Camp in Parma, Italy. Arrival in Geneva with pmk GENEVE 7/EXP LETTRES * 28 1 41.

The cover was mailed from Geneva to Italy postage-free

(Note: Franc de port)

Petros Kritikos, was a crew member of a Greek merchant ship that was in an Italian port on the day the war broke out. The entire crew was detained

4. GREEK SOLDIERS CAPTIVE IN ITALY

There are scant records of Greek military prisoners of the Greco - Italian front, since the actual number was relatively small. Additionally, some were released by the German occupying forces, after the armistice of Italy

(front side 70%)

Cover from Greek Prisoner of War in Italy, at the Prisoner of War Camp Fonte d'Amore in Sulmona of the Abruzzo region, towards Basel, Switzerland. Routed through the Italian Red Cross (via Croce Rossa, handwritten in front). Censored on 3 Feb 41 (in front handstamp) with 2 twin-circle handstamps texted UFFICIO PROVINCIALE CENSURA POSTALE #48, with the Italian national emblem of the period (on the back) and with printed resealing tape texted "Verificato per Censura" from the Italian postal censorship office. Censor's number #50 (in front inside the single-circle handstamp).

Some Greco-Italian war Officers were later arrested as a precaution, in order not to engage in resistance activities. Along with teachers and priests, they made up the three groups targeted for detention by the Italians. At first, they were placed in camps in Greece. Later, they were transported (via steamboat) to camps in Italy.

their objects are on display, since they are Greco-Italian war officers

One of these was a Major T. VARIKOPOULOS (was previously seen as the officer sender of a postal card from the XVII Division). He was arrested at his home in Larissa in November of 1942, placed in the camp there and eventually transferred to a concentration camp in Italy (initially No 55 and then No 17).

Italian postal card for prisoners of war (CARTOLINA POSTAL PER PRIGIONIERI DI GUERRA) of VARIKOPOULOS, sent on 1.8.43 from Camp No. 17 (REZZANELLO in PIACENZA, Lombardy/ITALY), served by Posta Militare 3200 (based in BOLOGNA), to his wife in LARISSA-Greece.

Censored by the Foreign Mail Office in Rome with twin-circle handstamp UFFICIO CENSURA POSTA ESTERA I (the II was in Milan) and box linear handstamp VERIFICATO PER CENSURA. "It also bears the fractional markings 196/I (of the censorship service in Rome) and 39/I (of censor #39 of the Rome censorship office).

The card found its way into German hands, after the September 1943 armistice when German forces took control of Rome and Northern Italy. It was then transferred to Munich for inspection of military mail by the authorized service "d", cancellation "Ad" and censor number #5411, before being forwarded to Greece.

At the same time on the back of the card, the text was examined with a chemical blue liquid brush, 1cm wide, to highlight any encrypted message.

Major T. VARIKOPOULOS escaped to Switzerland after Italy agreed to the armistice (8.9.43) and opened its camps. He studied at the University of Geneva at least until May 45 and then returned to his home (J. Vayakis).

Italian postal card from the rescued Artillery Lieutenant Pavlos Bouas, of the ship (CITA DI GENONA) that was torpedoed on January 21, 1943, while transporting prisoners of war from Greece to Italy (80 were rescued, 71 drowned, including Colonel K. DAVAKIS), sent on November 18, 1943, to his wife in Athens.

It was sent from Prisoner of War Camp No. #38, which was established in May 1943 for Greek detainees (near the city POPPI, province of AREZZO southeast of FLORENCE)
Stamp is missing

Italian prisoner of war card of officer J. GEREODAKIS (with cancellations/markings similars to VARIKOPOULOS card), sent from POW camp No. 17, to his wife as well, in KASTORIA on 16.7.43 (back). The difference being that during the German advance, it was sent to VIENNA (service "g" responsible for the control of mail from/to the Balkans) where it was stamped with Oberkommando der Wehrmacht/Geprüft (7 continuous red lines as described in the book: DEUTSCHE DIENSSTELLEN G -25, page Nr. 132 by Riemer).

Second Lieutenant J. GEREODAKIS was taken prisoner during hostilities in ALBANIA, imprisoned in two camps in Italy (No.17 and No.55) and two in Germany (OFLAG X and VIII). He was released and returned to Greece after May 1945 (S. Bosovitch).

5. DODECANESE RESIDENTS OF GREEK ORIGIN, DETAINEES IN RHODES

People living on the Dodecanese islands who were of Greek origin and/or possessed Greek citizenship prior to the Italian occupation or later came to settle in the Dodecanese from Greece, with the outbreak of the war, or perhaps even the day before, (numbering around 300 people) were arrested and placed in temporary Camps on Rhodes (firstly in tents at a camp on the moat of Rhodes-town Castle and later to the stables of the little horses for the Italian officers children).

For their correspondence with relatives, they used official Italian postal stationery cards along with a pre-printed 30c Italian stamp (inland rate). The Italian language was used. (relatively rare items).

The prisoners were eventually released after the capitulation of Greece on April 27, 1941.

Italian postal card from Greek prisoner (Michel Zissimatos) in RHODES From the "Campo di concentramento Ellenico", sent in town (citta) on 23.11.40. Censored with linear handstamp "Verificato per censura".

He was released in January 1941, along with other elderly individuals, after protests about the conditions of detention

Italian postal card to the Greek prisoner, our well-known philatelist (Gerasimos Zissimatos (son of the above), at "Campo internati Greci" in the city of Rhodes (citta), on 27.11.40. Censored with linear handstamp "Verificato per censura 6" (#6 is sensor's number).

He was released in April 1941 after the surrender of Greece

Telegram from the PALACE TELEGRAPH OFFICE (of the Vice Admiral IOANNIDIS) on January 7, 1941 to SYROS. Censored in SYROS with red 3-circle handstamp "ΛΟΓΟΚΡΙΣΙΑ ΣΥΡΟΥ / ΕΛΟΓΟΚΡΙΘΗ 10" (SYROS CENSORSHIP / CENSORED, sensor's number #10).

Vice Admiral Pericles Ioannidis, during the National Schism, sided with the King. Due to his political beliefs, he was imprisoned until 1920. After the fall of Venizelos, he participated in the Asia Minor Campaign. In 1922, he retired from active service, but in 1935, he was reinstated and, in the same year, retired from the Hellenic Navy while receiving the title of Vice Admiral. He married Princess Maria of Greece and Denmark, daughter of George I. After the war, in 1947, he received the Dodecanese as a representative of Greece from the Allies and was appointed military governor of the Dodecanese.

2. FINDING VALUE ITEMS DURING CENSORSHIP

(front side 50%)

Initial handstamp type

Commercial intown cover, arrival pmk "ΑΘΗΝΑΙ ΑΦΙΞΙΣ * 11 XII 40". Opened for censorship control (single-circle cachet "ΛΟΓΟΚΡΙΣΙΑ ΑΘΗΝΩΝ 322" (ATHENS CENSORSHIP, censor's number #322) - in front -, a National Bank cheque for 500 dr was found inside. This result was handwritten in pencil on the front of the envelope as well as on the back, replacing part of the specialized handstamp for exchange control used until then, with a handwritten note, and signed by "The Censor" (see below).

Afterward, it was forwarded to another censorship committee, maybe specialized in values items, tied with two violet twin-circle handstamps "ΛΟΓΟΚΡΙΣΙΑ ΑΘΗΝΩΝ * ΕΛΟΓΟΚΡΙΘΗ 73" (ATHENS CENSORSHIP * CENSORED, sensor's number #73), on "Ελληνική Λογοκρισία" (Hellenic Censorship) marked resealing tape. The #32 inside the circle refers to the Athen's postman.

Note: This handstamp was used by the BANK OF GREECE during foreign exchange control from 1936 to 1941, which was modified/'scratched out' the inscription BANK OF GREECE/THE HEAD OF THE TEAM, to write manually on the envelope 'The Censor', as it pertains to a censorship inspection.

(front 50%)

Registered cover from Volos Branch of the Bank of Athens, to ATHENS. Canc. "ΒΟΛΟΣ * 11 ΙΙ 41" added with black printed framed oblong registry label "Σ / 1584". Forwarded to VOLOS Censorship Service, tied with small cachet "ΛΟΓΟΚΡΙΣΙΑ - ΒΟΛΟΥ" (VOLOS CENSORSHIP) in outer belt around crest centrally on "ΕΛΛΗΝΙΚΗ ΛΟΓΟΚΡΙΣΙΑ" (HELLENIC CENSORSHIP) printed resealing tape. Backstamped confirmation signed by the Police and Post Office officials on the examined cover that a check of the Bank of Athens for 1729 Drachmas was found contained [apparently, the found item was re-enclosed within the cover].

For this case of finding a check during censorship control, the existed cachet during currency control from 1936 until the start of the war was used

A SIMULTANEOUS CONTROL OF CENSORSHIP & CURRENCY EXCHANGE CONTROL

(although the currency control had ceased with the onset of the war)

(back 40%)

Registered letter from the National Bank of Greece (Athens) to a bank in London. Postmarked at the bank with a faint red meter machine stamp on 14 November 1940. It was then forwarded to the Athens civilian post, pmk. "ΑΘΗΝΑΙ ΣΥΣΤΗΜΕΝΑ ΕΞΩΤΕΡΙΚΟΥ * 15 XI 40". Censored with a violet single-circle cachet texted "ATHENS * CENSORSHIP", censor's number E.7

It is then transferred to the exchange control committee of the Bank of Greece, where the cover:

- is examined and secured with a printed tape "ΕΛΕΓΧΟΣ ΣΥΝΑΛΛΑΓΜΑΤΟΣ / CONTROLE DU CHANGE",
- hand stamped (front and back) with the round cachet of the Currency Control Committee (seated Athena),
- hand stamped also with the square handstamp "ΕΠΙΤΡΕΠΕΤΑΙ Η ΤΑΧΥΔΡΟΜΗΣΙΣ" (PERMITTED TO BE POSTED), without a date, on the back, signed by the committee members
- additionally, a vignette of the Bank is affixed.

Forwarded finally to its destination by the Athens civilian post, pmk "ΑΘΗΝΑΙ POSTE AERIENNE * 16 XI 40", routed to its destination through Cairo (transit handstamp of the Egyptian censorship, CENSOR #77 on the front).

It is quite strange for the cover to undergo Currency Control in November, when it is known that it had already been abolished with the declaration of war, and military censorship was officially being enforced.

3. CARTOONS WITHIN THE LETTERS

They were available for free to put inside letters to boost the mood and morale of the recipients.

Cover with enclosed letter from ATHENS, pmk "ΑΘΗΝΑ (ΛΕΒΙΔΟΥ 8) * 14 XII 40", to an army officer of TT724 (PS724 -XIII Infantry Division). Censored in Athens with twin-circle cachet "ΛΟΓΟΚΡΙΣΙΑ ΑΘΗΝΩΝ * ΕΛΟΓΟΚΡΙΘΗ 116" (ATHENS CENSORSHIP * CENSORED, censor's number #116) and with resealing printed tape marked "ΕΛΛΗΝΙΚΗ ΛΟΓΟΚΡΙΣΙΑ" (HELLENIC CENSORSHIP).

Inside the letter was the above cartoon

5. CIVILIAN POST OFFICE'S CENSORSHIP

At the start of the war, public mail was initially censored by the local public authorities and by control offices of public correspondence that were created in all the major cities of Greece. As we mentioned above, with the GES directive of 11.11.1940, these offices also controlled military correspondence. Each censorship office had its own handstamps, for this reason there is a plethora of round seals (two concentric or a single circle), but also horizontal ones (the censors had their own seals usually with numbers inside a frame (circular or rectangular)).

Letters that were not posted open were opened by the censors and after their contents was verified, they were resealed with printed resealing adhesive tape bearing the inscription "GREEK CENSORSHIP" usually in a tete-beche format. Specifically, there exist numerous types of printed tapes bearing various font faces.

These censorship offices functioned until the occupation of Athens on 17.4.41 by the Germans, or earlier if the city was occupied earlier than that date.

Within the space limitations of the exhibit, a numerically small sample of verified public mail from various cities follows. Postage fees are not mentioned as they are outside the scope of the exhibit.

The cover was initially censored in Germany and secured with resealing tape texted "Geoffnet/Geprüft Obbercommando der Wehrmacht" (Germany was already in war) and stamped with 4line machine postmark (reference: DEUTSCHE DIENSSTELLEN by Riemer, type G-22, pg. 131)

AERIAL CORRESPONDENCE GREECE - USA VIA PACIFIC OCEAN

Due to the closed route across the Atlantic, the route via the Pacific that had been in effect since 1935 was modified. The new route was implemented by the Greek Post Offices in March 1941. It was called FAM-19, (Foreign Air Mail 19, Horseshoe Pacific route).
